Amtekco has built thousands of pieces of food marketing equipment for the supermarket industry for over 40 years!

No one understands the needs of supermarkets better than Amtekco. We design and build all of our equipment at state-of-the-art facilities in Columbus, Ohio. We provide standard and custom wood manufacturing and stainless steel fabricating capabilities. Our longevity in the food marketing industry reflects our philosophies to provide unparalleled customer service and build the highest quality products on the market.

Our highly qualified staff designs and manufactures equipment that creates the highest returns per square foot in your store.

Our sales and design team spends much of their time in the field, researching and developing new equipment to create higher traffic flow and higher profit margins for our customers. As your partner, Amtekco works with you to design equipment that cost-effectively utilizes space, meets NSF and ETL standards, and creates an atmosphere that entices customers and cross sells other items in the store.

Amtekco Industries creates solutions through our competitively priced line of home meal replacement centers, food preparation units and merchandisers.

Our extensive stainless steel fabricating and wood manufacturing capabilities create endless combinations for your store. No size, configuration or finish is too tough for Amtekco. Choose from many standard styles, or customize a unit to match your store's decor. Many Quick Ship items also are available for immediate delivery. Whether you need a single item or an entire store of equipment, Amtekco will be your partner and help you map out a solution.
